

Honesty and Integrity are the foundations of our Corporate Values which is published on our website www.deloffice.mu

We are against the payment of bribes, commissions or other inducements to gain more business.

We say No To Bribe through an advert on the front page of our web-store to dissuade all those who may hope to earn something in return of an order.

Our company is structurally well organised, fully computerised and operates under stringent systems of internal control.

Our pricing policy is well structured and all prices are registered in our computerised invoicing system in absolute transparency to our sales and accounting staffs. Any attempt to inflate price, discount price or issue a free of charge invoice is immediately detected.

Deloffice Ltd has its own dedicated mail server. All incoming and outgoing emails in relation to our sales activities are copied to all sales staffs and the management. Furthermore, all sales inquiries and discussions are registered in our ERM system.

The employment of accounting professionals, proper segregation of duties and established approval procedures in our payment function eliminate any attempt to conclude unethical transactions in our company.

Despite the clarity of our Anti-Bribery Policy, we regularly remind our employees that we do not and shall not entertain any payment of commission whatever the size of the order. In addition, we consider any promise of commission by one of our employees as a gross misconduct.

Faithful to our tradition, we greet and thank our customers for their business and support at the end of each year. While doing so, we take care not to give to our customers any gift which may be considered or perceived as an inducement for more business.

Our financial statements, audited by independent audit firm, shows a true and fair view and neither the company nor its directors have been convicted for any fraudulent, bribery or money laundering activity.

Both the company and the group are profitable and we aim to be actively involved in CSR activities, helping the needy kids in their school supply. One For The Kids, the CSR Program of Deloffice, has been set up for this purpose.

The directors of Deloffice Ltd strongly believe in business ethics and good Corporate Governance. Trust, honesty and integrity are at the center of every project we undertake and it is with this business philosophy that we intend to grow and to succeed.
